SCHOOL HISTORY

Built in 1859 by the flamboyant Sheriff of Ontario County, Nelson Gilbert "Iron" Reynolds, Trafalgar Castle remains a unique Canadian treasure. Designed by the Toronto architect Joseph Sheard, the castle was built of limestone and stone in the Elizabethan style. It boasts 15 towers, secret passageways, a tunnel to Lake Ontario, and was reputed to have cost an astounding $70,000. Guarded by the stone Trafalgar Lions, the main entrance doors of solid oak lead into a wide hallway some 105 feet long. This central hall faces a massive carved oak staircase dominated by four magnificent stained glass windows incorporating the Arms of England. Scotland, Canada, and the Reynolds families. There were 73 separate apartments and many of the materials and furnishings were imported from Europe. The Castle was lit by gaslight, manufactured in its own gashouse on the extensive grounds. Some of the fine marble fireplaces were carved by Jonathon Wolfenden of Whitby. Nelson Reynolds fathered 24 children with two wives. An officer in the 11th Lancers of England, Nelson Reynolds was elected to the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada. He prospered as the President of the Marmora Foundry, and was involved in banking, mercantile business, railroads and shipping. During their years in residence, the Reynolds lived and entertained lavishly. The glittering receptions and balls made Trafalgar Castle the centre of society and numbered among its guests, Prince Arthur, third son of Queen Victoria, and later, the Duke of Connaught, who became Governor General of Canada. Beset with financial difficulties, Reynolds was forced to sell his dream home to the Methodist Church. In 1874 Trafalgar Castle became the Ontario Ladies' College, a residential school for young ladies. Nelson Reynolds served on the Board of directors until his death in 1881. More than 100 years later, O.L.C. was renamed Trafalgar Castle, and remains to this day a school for young women.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Mrs. and Mr. Kamcke relax after the Christmas dinner.

Mr. Kamcke peruses his favourite table at the Annual Bazaar. Books!

Reflecting on the theme school "ties", it strikes me immediately how many ways the word "ties" can be interpreted. We like to think of our school as a family and it really is quite striking the various ties that bind us to this family we call Trafalgar Castle School.

We start with this wonderful book in which each year we reflect the events and record for posterity the many faces that make up our community. The book itself is bound together by the ties printers use to attach the pages and the cover that represents the finished product we call the yearbook. Within these covers in years to come alumnae will find memories that will help to tie them to their old school. Without these ties of memory former students are more likely to drift off and forget their allegiance to Trafalgar Castle. Without these ties our school would be less than what it is.

Rail travel is making a bit of a come-back. Many day students come to school each day on the GO train. Many boarders still travel by VIA Rail to and from the school and, in our early years, rail travel was essential to our existence. The tracks that carry those trains are joined by ties.

Part of our uniform is the school tie. More important still is the house tie. Each girl strives to earn her house tie. In so doing she commits herself to the spirit both of her house and the school. Once she has earned her house tie she can consider herself a full-fledged member of the Trafalgar Castle family.

We play a lot of sports here at the school. Naturally we like to win. However, for me quite often the best score is a tie in which no one wins or, as I see it, everyone wins.

For many students the most important ties developed here are ties of friendship. Many will make life-long friends which will bind their lives in a multitude of ways. We even have instances where a girl marries her best friend's brother, thereby forming a true family tie.

Finally, we have the tie of obligation. As members of the large Trafalgar Castle family we all have the duty to carry on its teachings long after we depart from its halls. Most important we have the obligation to represent as best we can its motto of "truth, virtue, loveliness". There is no greater tie than this.

Mr. C. Kamcke

VICE PRINCIPAL & HEAD GIRL

Dear Students.

I'm composing this letter on the day after this year's May Day festival. It was a wonderful day for our school community, an occasion when you and your school mates worked together as a team to accomplish a particular goal. May Day this year was one of the best and you should be proud of your participation in it!

As I contemplate the fact that the theme for this yearbook is "School Ties" and I reflect on May Day '95, it is clear that friendships established at Trafalgar last for many, many years. The number of "old girls" in attendance at this year's May Day was the largest in my memory. It was wonderful to see former students, who had not seen each other for years, reminiscing and swapping old stories and memories from their years at Trafalgar. I hope that this experience will be the same for you many years down the road. Develop your present friendships within our school community and nurture them in the future!

Graduates, you are breaking your ties with our school in a physical sense only. We will miss your faces and presence in our halls when school starts next September. But you will not be forgotten! The ties you have made with other students, little sisters, staff and faculty will continue. And when you return to see us down the road we'll remember you and we'll be interested in you and what you have done with your life since you left us. Your ties with Trafalgar Castle School will last forever!

I want to take this opportunity to wish each graduate of the Class of '95 every success in your future endeavours. Live life to the fullest. Appreciate each day that is given to you. Always do your best. Love your neighbour as yourself. We, the Trafalgar Castle community, are very proud of you. Good Luck in your future!

Mr. J. B. McClure

Head Girl has stiff competition from Dana and Katrina on Track and Field Day, June 2.

Angela, Stephanie, Lana, Melissa and Daphne sing their good-byes at Senior Dinner, May 5.

HEAD GIRL'S MESSAGE

I can't believe this year has ended so quickly, and that I am already writing this message for the yearbook. Where has the time gone?

I have so many people to thank for helping make this year such a great success. Mrs. Jackson, for her loving support and understanding. You made my first year of boarding at Trafalgar easy, unforgettable and full of new experiences! Thank you for everything. Miss Roberts, who was always there to listen when I needed her. To all the staff who made sure that everyone was fed three meals a day. Thank you all.

Finally to Trafalgar, which has given me the opportunity to learn and practise leadership. This will last a lifetime. Without you I wouldn't be here today - a graduate among girls from around the world who have worked hard to get here today. You believed and trusted in me and gave me your support. I feel extremely honoured to have had the chance to attend such a wonderful school.

To the students, be assertive and take the opportunities that Trafalgar has to offer you because you will only benefit!

To the graduating class of 1995, I wish you all a fond farewell and nothing but success in your future endeavours. We have completed only a portion of our lives, but an important one. As the saying goes, "The best is yet to come."

Thanks for the memories!

DEAN AND GAP STUDENTS

The first time I stood in the pulpit in the Chapel eight years ago, I was, as many of you have been, terrified. I was new to the school and I was afraid that Mr. Kamcke and the English teachers would be listening very carefully to detect any grammatical errors and to count the number of "ums". I have given many Chapels since and they have come to be favourite parts of my weekly "duties". (Nothing is a duty if it is a joy to do.)

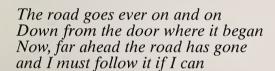

Two of my greatest Chapel themes have been Choice and Change. I have always told you that we all make our own choices in life. Others may influence us, we may try to blame what happens to us on others, or we may even let them take credit, but the truth is "we are the masters of our fate" and we each have to choose our own direction.

I have suggested to you on occasion that we should not be afraid of change. Those of you who are graduating are facing a big change in your lives; but even those who will be here next year will encounter change with new friends and different teachers. Whenever we are faced with change, we should not fear it or run away from it, instead, we should welcome it as an opportunity to grow, to add experiences and new friends to our lives. That way, if we meet change with enthusiasm, we will live full and interesting lives and learn much.

Why am I telling you all this? Because I have made the choice to seek a change. I have decided not to return to Trafalgar Castle. It is a wonderful school and I have been fortunate to have worked with many exceptional teachers and truly caring staff. You know that I love all of you. Wherever I go, you and Trafalgar will be in my thoughts and prayers. Whenever I think of you, I will be grateful for the privilege of having known you and for the many special moments we have shared together. These have been wonderful years and I will carry you in my heart always.

Pursuing it with eager feet
Until it joins some larger way
Where many paths and errands meet
And wither then? I cannot say

Find us, keep us, leave us friends - Til perchance we meet again...Benedicte, Amen.

Charlotte Roberts, Dean

Nicole Dann

I would like to thank all at Trafalgar for giving me the opportunity to spend a year here in Canada. I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at the school and have had so many memorable experiences: camping out in sub-zero temperatures in Kentucky, crawling through caves, playing baseball for the first time and, not to forget, playing a 'mad woman' in the haunted house on May Day! I would like to give a special thanks to Mrs. Bagnall for giving me the opportunity to sample life as a French teacher at Trafalgar and to my classes who were such a pleasure to teach. I have learned a lot this year, especially from the students in Grade 7 Family Studies who taught me how to cook and sew. I have also discovered that Canadians can not imitate my English accent, however hard they try!

Thank you again and the best of luck next year.

It has been my pleasure to be the yearbook editor here at Trafalgar for the past two years. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to get closer to the school community and to know more about the school.

Putting a yearbook together is not a simple task. The yearbook staff meets every week throughout the school year. We work together in the yearbook room located on upper main. We shared ideas and worked very hard to put together this yearbook.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the yearbook staff. Special thanks to Pekkey Ha who typed the addresses, to Vivian Lee who worked so very hard, to Dorothy Lee who provided food at the meetings - pocky and candy. Additional thanks to Abigail Pearson, Nancy Pollitt, Mrs. Metselaar and Mrs. Pollitt.

I have really enjoyed my time here at Trafalgar. I shall never forget the time spent with friends, time in class and the jokes we shared. I will miss you all!

I wish the yearbook editors next year the best!!

Hey Hare House, way to go! You made it through a demanding year with your wonderful spirit. When we were ahead or even behind we still gave enough to cheer everyone on. Hare's spirit was reflected on Spirit Day when we won the Tug-of-War. Everyone gave an excellent effort (except for a few who had pressing "tanning" appointments telling me the day after that they weren't there), right Adrianna? With every Hare player in the field and batting we pulled out from behind and won the ball game in the last inning. Awesome Hare!

Hare, you did a great job making posters, swimming in the House Swim Meet, being at house games and always having a positive attitude. These are always appreciated!

Thank you to Trisha and Tory for all their dedicated effort and the time they spent in producing "Juvie". Thank you to my sub Trisha. Thanks to Hare House for giving me this leadership experience.

Good luck Lonelle and Tishya. Keep your chins up!

My year as Carter's House Captain has been a very exciting and memorable one. I would like to thank and congratulate each funky member for her hard work and dedication. Without you girls Carter House would not be as successful. You all in your own way have provided a feeling of warmth and togetherness which brought out Carter's tremendous spirit. I have truly enjoyed listening to some of the reasons why certain people could not attend house games. Whatever incredible excuse I received it was most interesting! But whatever excuse I did receive tremendous spirit always shone through each individual. I would like to give a special thanks to Carrie Kolewaski because without her support I could have not made it through the whole year. I would like to wish good luck to next year's captain and sub-captain, may all the best of success be with you. One last thing before I go. Carter house always keeps smiling and dancing. I'll miss all of you for you each left me with lasting memories. Remember keep your funky spirit going and good luck to you next year.

"Forever raise your banners High, High, High!"

To Farewell House

You are awesome! Farewell has had such an amazing year! We've had so much enthusiasm and house spirit. This spirit lasted from Activity Day all the way through to our victorious Track and Field Day at the end of the year.

I've enjoyed being your house captain so much this year. How could I not? All of you have made it a truly unforgettable experience. (I stress the word unforgettable!)

I would especially like to thank one of the greatest sub-captains that Farewell has ever seen, Chiara. I couldn't have done it without your!

To next year's captains, I wish the best of luck. It's an honour to lead the BEST HOUSE in the school.

Thanks a lot for a great year!

FRONT ROW: Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Luchka, Lori-Ann D'Ornellas, Caryn Leah, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Sigsworth.

It's been quite a year, Maxwell. you've kept me on my "toes". Having the opportunity of being captain for the past two years, I've seen many faces. I've seen old girls become more involved than ever before and I've seen new girls shine as well. Getting my girls, old or new, to house games, has been a chore both years. I've often been entertained by so many and inventive excuses! This year, Maxwell won both the House Swim Meet and the House Plays. We have had incredible spirit and enthusiasm in everything that we did. I am proud of each and every one of you. Lori-Ann, you are a star and I couldn't have done it without you. Good luck leading the AA next year. I know that you will do an excellent job. Good luck to next year's captain Tara and sub Nicole. I hope that you will have as much fun as I did. Maxwell, you are amazing! Keep up the good work and remember: MAXWELL is #1!

Trafalgar Debates

Debating at Trafalgar has provided a constant source of entertainment this year. Our debaters participated in the Fulford Cup Debates and the St. George's Saucer public speaking event. Prominent among our debaters were: Angela Efthimiou, Miranda Lenis, Caryn Leah and Tishya Mehta.

House debates were extremely popular during the winter months. This year's debate topics were:

"Charles should be crowned."

"A four day week is in the best interest of students."

"The position of May Queen should be eliminated from Trafalgar's May Day Festival."

"Soap operas enrich our lives."

These topics provoked both lively debates and intense question periods.

It has been a successful day - Farewell wins!

Student/Staff relay - Amy, Mr. McClure, Suzanne, Mrs. Murphy.

Mr. Kamcke announces the winners. His able assistants are Victoria and Mrs. Campbell.

Throngs gathered between the lions to watch the outcome of the Student/Staff relay.

MAY DAY

At Trafalgar, we love our traditions and May Day is one of those we hold most dear. Since 1904 we have been electing a May Queen; in the past because she represented the epitome of our school motto - Virtus, Veritas, Venustas - but today because she embodies the special strengths of a young woman in the 90's, among which we count self-confidence, vision, and capability.

In her address to the assembled students, parents and friends, Elaine Chang spoke of her own good fortune and encouraged today's young women to recognize and develop their own strengths, then apply themselves wholeheartedly to their studies to reach their goals.

Counsellors Angie Kaaz and Suzanne Ogilivie-King assisted in the administration of a dozen or so outdoor performances by various classes and groups. Following these the special attractions of May Fest, from car wash to candy floss, haunted house to perogies, held the interest of our large crowd and culminated in Mr. K's annual auction.

Each house parades under the banner then proudly shows its colours in the May Pole dance.

SIX TIMELY TIPS FOR SUCCESS

It seems to me that the best advice I can give you as you head off to universities is how to get the most of the precious years ahead, when more will happen in less time than you can imagine. In a nutshell, these are the things weary old graduates never told me.

1. Get to know at least a few of your professors; drop by during office hours to ask a question or discuss a topic for a paper. 2. Get involved in student activities, student politics, the newspaper, sports or a volunteer service. All of these provide opportunities for friendships, leadership and the development of skills which may single you out in a job contest. 3. In class, do not be afraid to speak up, to give a different opinion or ask a question. (In the real world, if you don't straighten out your mistakes early, you will pay heavily for them later.) And don't let young men intimidate you, as they can be louder and more critical, but they're not more competent - just more openly competitive. 4. Enjoy a full social life, but choose carefully the company you keep and when and where you keep it. 5. Make all the friends you can. A campus provides the best opportunity you will ever have to make friends for life and time to really get to know them. Close friendships developed here will be treasured for the rest of your life. 6. Be prepared to work very hard. There is simply no alternative for diligence if one wants to learn and to achieve; the discipline to do the extra bit of research, to polish a paper for the fifth time will flow through to make or break a career. Last - Have

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

I can hardly believe I am standing here today giving what will probably be my last speech at Trafalgar. Usually I would be thrilled at never having to make another speech. But under the circumstances my feelings are quite the opposite. I really can't believe this is the end! When I entered Trafalgar three years ago, I didn't know what to think! Had I made a mistake? Here was a world completely different from the one I was used to. I was surrounded by old paintings, girls, beautiful stained glass windows. MORE girls, caring staff and faculty, and can you believe it, EVEN MORE GIRLS!

These same girls have now become my friends and my support. As Head Girl I've had to rely on them for encouragement and help, particularly the Prefects. To each of them I give a sincere "thank you!".

At Trafalgar we have been given so many opportunities and choices. I would first like to thank our parents who have made it possible for us to attend such a exceptional school. You have not made a mistake. Without this chance some of us would have been happy with mediocrity. We would never have known the satisfaction of meeting a challenge and succeeding. Although most of the emphasis is put on academics and leadership, extracurricular activities are strongly encouraged and promoted. Even though this is a small school, Trafalgar offers quality experiences through student council, debating, athletics, drama and music. We've learned to appreciate and accept differences, and in our own way have broken down barriers of prejudice and discrimination.

To the students- make the most of your time here. It ends too quickly. When you first look around Trafalgar what jumps out is the castle, the architecture, the chapel, the windows, the beautiful grounds. But that's not what makes Trafalgar special - it's the people here who provide a quality programme who make it so worthwhile.

The teachers are interested in you, willing to listen and offer guidance. Their ideas are not as strange as we sometimes think. Get involved. Opportunities are numerous. Whether your interest lies in academic or athletic areas, plenty of activities are available to you. Make time for friends. The greatest assets of Trafalgar are the girls you meet and the friendships which develop.

To the faculty - well, what can I say? If it weren't for you I don't think we would have survived such a hectic year! Between house games, practices, homework and those loveable Independent Study Projects, I'm sure we all would have been lost if you had not been there to push us to our limits, limits we never thought possible. I'm positive all the essays and ISP's were assigned for our benefit; you were only thinking of what was best for us! I must confess I was not thanking you when I was up till 3 o'clock in the morning frantically trying to finish on time. However, when the job was done, we felt a great sense of accomplishment, and, you guessed it, relief! For this we do thank you. Your commitment and dedication inspired us. You were always there for us; we are truly grateful.

To Mr. McClure, I don't think I'll ever confuse mitosis with meiosis - or was that osmosis and osteoporosis? To Miss Roberts, our Writers Craft class really does work better on full stomachs. Mrs. Campbell, I'm sure you said the soccer bus was leaving at 3:30. Mrs. K., I promise never to take a math course at university! Mr. Cleary, I have signed up for a stretching clinic immediately following today's ceremony. To all our teachers, you've challenged us to think for ourselves and have provided the tools for problem solving - most importantly, you've been our friends. Your belief in us made us believe in ourselves.

Finally to my fellow graduates! I would like to congratulate you (and me!) on a job well done. Our hard work and dedication is being rewarded today as we walk away from Trafalgar with diplomas in hand. The dedication and energy we've put into our academic pursuits provides us with the satisfaction and gratitude we feel on this special day. While teamwork is stressed here, each of us is encouraged to display her own individuality. We have been provided with a solid foundation on which to build our future. As we take the giant step into tomorrow, exploring various career paths, our Trafalgar roots will guide us in our decision-making.

We shall long remember the fun and laughter we've shared together. We've watched lightning flash around the turrets, laughed with Jerry Springer and never considered McDonald's "out-of-bounds". We've exchanged dreams and clothes. Now it is time to disperse - each to her own destiny. Wherever life leads us, my hope is that we always remember lessons taught here; that we be tolerant of other people, show love and concern for those less fortunate than ourselves and take responsibility for the welfare of our community, environment and country. My final wish to the graduating class is for your success. Emerson says it best in this poem I leave with you.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

"To laugh often and love much; To win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; To appreciate beauty To find the best in others To give of one's self without the slightest thought of return To have accomplished a task, whether by a healthy child, a rescued soul, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; To have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exaltation; To know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived;

This is to have succeeded."

FINALLY...GRAD '95!

Our lovely hostess, Gwen Summers, who with her husband offered pre-party hors d'oeuvres to tempt the party crowd. At right, Stephanie dances with her father.

Never "too hip" or "too old" to boogie!

We held our grad dance at the beautiful Park Plaza Hotel and partied till the wee hours with family and friends. The startling news was the bankruptcy announced by this venerable old hotel in the morning papers. Guess we were too much for the old place!

NATIONAL CHEMISTRY WEEK

Our students and their teacher Mr. Davis took the Mole-By-The-Nose and planned a week of NCW/SNC activities. They really had a blast!

Grade 11 students made posters of an element that they had chosen. The poster was to display all pertinent information about their chosen element. In the middle of the poster was to be a space into which was placed a sheet of paper with the element's symbol, atomic number and atomic mass. The poster was to become one part of a huge periodic table which was on display throughout NCW/SNC. The size of the periodic table was ten metres long by three metres high.

OAC students made posters to commemorate Mole Day and promote this sacred value. These were mounted throughout the school.

A week long contest was held to Guess - The - Moles - Of - Sucrose. A volumetric flask was filled with sugar and students were given the opportunity to make a guess. The flask was put on display in the main hallway along with the prizes to be won. These included a Mole Day T-shirt, a drinking bird, and ChemSmile stickers from the University of Waterloo. The winner was Grade 9 student Becky Yeager, who correctly guessed 2.015 mol.

Each day at lunch, one lucky student's name was drawn for a grabbag of items such as candy, NCW/SNC buttons, stickers and balloons, pocket

Our students and their teacher Mr. periodic tables and other fun items.

On October 19 at lunch, an auction for a specially designed Mole Day Cake was held. The bidding for this delectable dessert climaxed at $40.00, a bid put forward by the Grade 7 class.

October 20, the Grade 11 biology class performed the short skit "An Ace in the Mole", based on a song made famous by Mike Offutt and distributed by the National Mole Day Foundation in Prairie du Chien, WI.

There were four entries from Trafalgar Castle School in the regional Crystal Growing Competition, run by the Toronto Section. The best crystal landed in 10th place with a total score of 78 points. Two other crystals also rated in the 70s as well. The fourth did not have the mass of the first three, however, it was tops in quality with an 8/10 ranking.

On October 21 Mr. Davis put on a pyrotechnic display for the entire school. To the beat of appropriate tunes he demonstrated various chemical reactions, phenomena and scientific fun, all in front of the giant periodic table.

Mr. Davis summed up the events by saying, "I have never had such an easy time teaching the concept of the mole in my class". Members of the student body and faculty had never had such an easy time understanding the concept of the mole. Thank you - Mr. Davis!

ABOVE: The celebrated Mole Cake and a selection of bumper stickers.
RIGHT: Mr. "Wizard" Davis chants "Double, double, toil and trouble."

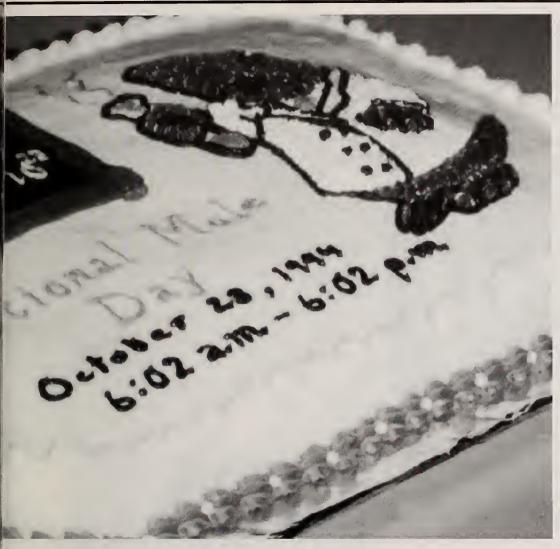

TRAFALGAR CASTLE School chemistry teacher Steve Davis exploded a balloon filled with hydrogen to demonstrate why the tightly flammable gas is no longer used in airships. The chemistry pyrotechnic display was part of "National Mole Day" at the castle, which is designed to get students interested in chemistry. Incidentally, a mole isn't just a rodent - it' also the term for the number six followed by 23 zeroes.

INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS' JUNIOR SCIENCE OLYMPICS

The Fourth Annual ISJSO was hosted by Trafalgar Castle on February 25, 1995.

It is always a great day filled with challenging events, stiff competition and camaraderie.

The participating school were:

Bayview Glen School
Bishop Strachan School
Country Day School
Crescent School
Hillfield-Strathallan College
Lakefield College School
Ridley College
St. Andrew's College
St. Clement's School
St. Mildred's Lightbourn School
Trinity College School
Upper Canada College

EVENTS ISJSO 1995

1. QUIZ SHOW - Reach for the top format; team on team.

2. ICE-BREAKERS - an end-of-the-day, fun group activity to help the teams get to know their olympian co-competitors.

3. BLINDMAN'S GOOGOLPEDE - a "CENTIPEDE" type computer game where good communication skills, math, and spatial awareness are needed to rack up points.

4. AMAZE-ING LAZING - reflecting your good taste in the angle of incidence and reflection.

6. DEADLY ASSAULT - use your knowledge of mixtures to analyze the contents of a mysterious sample.

7. BIO FACTS - knowledge of life is required in the multi-media event.

8. BRIDGING THE GAP - within a given time limit, research, design, and build a structure from selected items that will support the greatest mass as possible.

9. T H E S L I M E A P U L T Objective - to build a device that will catapult a ball of slime onto a target.

This year's winner was Crescent School.

Dear Staff and Students

Our family would like to thank you very much for your hard work in raising money for the fund for Daniel and the Unrelated Bone Marrow Donor Registry.

It's been wonderful to see the level of support and concern generated by Daniel's need and the need of others in his situation.

Your generosity is appreciated and will be rewarded when more patients needing bone marrow transplants are able to survive.

Thanks for being so caring

Sincerely,

ARTS IN ACTION AWARDS

This year the Parents' Guild sponsored monthly "Arts in Action" awards, designed to reward students for individual creative work in a way which would allow the Guild to participate in the academic life of our children and to reinforce and support individual effort.

The initial project was to create a "Novella" in three hours. Chiara Campitelli placed first, receiving $100 and five house points. Here is a sample of her work:

"Mrs. Bates got better and was going out more and more and getting back to the cleaning and cooking. For some reason that was when Mr. Bates became the most abusive. From what I know and what Myrna told me, he beat them (most) every night when he came home from work. It would always be because he had had a bad day and they were annoying him. He would stop and punch them and beat them with brooms and belts and sometimes even with glass. My Mum would clean them up and make sure that nothing was broken. My mother is a nurse, a home nurse too. She delivered all of the Bates' children and loved them quite a bit - but in those days you didn't interfere with other people's problems, especially Mr. Bates's problems. Most people around our area feared him".

Second place, and 15 house points, went to Becky Yeager and the subsequent prize and 10 house points went to Jaclyn Bryant. Tarra Williamson and Lana Armstrong received 3 house points.

"The Shakespearian Sonnet Award"

The Shakespearian Sonnet Award coincided with the Valentine season.

The Guild was very pleased to note that Megan Barnecutt, Tina Gagliardi, Pekkey Ha, Jessica Kim, Tanya Sandaluk, Lonelle Selbo and Marietta Weber took up the challenge of poetry and earned 5 points for their respective houses.

Third place was a tie between Pekkey Ha and Jessica Kim, each earning 10 points for Maxwell house.

Second prize and 15 points were earned by Tina Gagliardi.

First prize belonged to Tanya Sandaluk.

"The Photography Contest" was held over March break and an award of $100 went with our congratulations to Beth Brousseau.

The Guild sponsored a "Sing Along Messiah" in our chapel on Palm Sunday. When approached for the role of "George Priderick", Tim Southwell felt he could "Handel it" and did a splendid job for us. Our fine Casavante organ was spruced up and played by Keith Rasmussen. Our own Mary Ruth Roadhouse sang the soprano solos. Mayor Tom Edwards added a magnificent "high D" to the baritone section, and the entire event received national television and radio publicity for the school. Great fun for all concerned.

THE TULIP TRIBUTE

The Environment Club participated in the country-wide programme: The Tulip Tribute Shore to Shore.

This year Canada and the world celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the liberation of Holland and the end of the war in Europe. To honour Canadian sacrifice and contribution in the re-establishment of world peace, tulips were planted. For each tulip planted across Canada, another one was planted by the National Capital Commission in Ottawa in the National Commemorative Garden.

These tulips symbolize the contribution made by Canadians and are a reminder of the ties between Canada and Holland.
